WOOD CUTTING, CREATIVITY IN THE FAMILY

"THE RESULT OF CREATIVE RESEARCH IS ALWAYS AMAZING ..."

Wood cutting is an interactive and creative installation-workshop. It is a space for family creation aimed at audiences of all ages, from the age of five.

It consists of workbenches of different sizes, panels with tools and all the necessary material to experiment and become aware of the profession of carpenter.

Through the free construction of different elements according to the concerns of the participants, individually or collectively, we are entering the exciting world of wood and creativity.

One of the things that excites the most about this installation is to see how young and old have a great time and have a shared time with the whole family.

Woodcutting encourages intergenerational participation that enriches each piece that is created in the workshop.

Exploring and raising awareness with the material and with the creative possibilities and abilities of oneself are some of the objectives of this installation.

The result is always amazing ...
